*This class will be at the MBCC - Transportation will be provided by Foley United

This seminar focuses on the continuing evolution and technological innovations prevalent in modern reel type cutting units. Regardless of manufacturer, design or application, the technician plays a critical role in the effectiveness, durability and performance of their reels. The process starts with first identifying best practices associated with their brand and type. With this in mind, our instructors are all factory trained veteran turf technicians with experience in all major brands and affiliated industries.

Once classroom instruction and Q&A conclude, we will break out into stations on grinders. Foley United, SIP and Express Dual will be providing their equipment for demonstration and hands-on guidance. Each group will in turn benefit from all three manufacturers presentations and experience.
